

Dear Sir,

I had an opportunity to review “Quantum Mechanics of Homeopathy” authored by H/Dr. Bashir A. Malik of Pakistan.

The title of the book is self-explanatory. Being a microbiologist and pathologist, I found the contents very interesting. The scientific layout of the title attracts the attention of a scientific mind at first glance that portrays an innovative applied version of science based homeopathy bearing title of “Quantum Pharmacology”. This book is entirely unique in research and scope. It logically creates a link of homeopathy with physics and biology. This aspect of research is segregated and applied from homeopathic point of view as “Nuclear Spin of hydrogen” a unique research oriented application of applied version of science based homeopathy at sub cellular level in the retrograde morphology of biochemical and biological functions within the enclosed dipolar aqueous entity of human body. This book gives an in-depth knowledge of physics to its readers but author uses it as a tool to target his research modules. This book has presented the case of homeopathy keeping in view the modern and logical research oriented approach of science.

The schema of the book, I believe, would provide answers to scientific ambiguities. His combination of scientific postulates is presented in such a manner that it would help envisage the inner most of science-based homeopathy.

The cured case histories, irreversible disease and genetic anomalies as well, narrated by the author are so unique that I find it morally binding upon me to point this fact out to associations/setup of your caliber to let it be known globally what homoeopathy is capable of doing and I am sure that ailing mankind can be tremendously benefitted.

I am taking the liberty of attaching flyer of the book. Best regards
